Flipped Learning in Language Teaching

This presentation highlights the five-week online workshop designed for both those new to flipped learning and those who are already flipping their classes. Participants practiced with various video creation tools, gained skills in curating already existing media, and learned how to effectively incorporate these resources into their teaching practices.

Martha Ramirez, Universidad de Los Andes, Colombia (contacto@martharamirez.com.co)

Diana Salazar, Saint Matthew School, Colombia (dianakalazar21@gmail.com)

Seventeen Years of EVO and Four Years of EVO Minecraft MOOC

This session will highlight the Electronic Village Online, from its beginnings in 2001 to the current year. The Electronic Village Online Minecraft MOOC, which has been in existence for the last four years, will also be highlighted. The EVO Minecraft MOOC is for interested teachers to join in playing Minecraft and learning from each other about how Minecraft is being used for language learning.

Vance Stevens, Higher Colleges of Technology, UAE (vancestev@gmail.com)

Leading Leaders as EVO18 Lead Coordinator

This session will highlight the experience of coordinating the Electronic Village Online for 2018.

Nellie Deutsch, Atlantic University, Canada (nellie.muller.deutsch@gmail.com)

A Moderator's Story: Sharing My Experience as a First Time Moderator

This session will highlight my first time as an Electronic Village Online moderator.

Julie Kacmaz, Academic Study Kit, Turkey (juliekacmaz@gmail.com)

Are You a Fair Tester?

This session highlights an EVO 2018 session designed for those responsible for setting monthly and annual exams. Participants in this session learned online and offline tools that can help them and alleviate the stress of managing testing.

Maha Hassan, Maha ESL Community, Egypt (maha.professionaltrainer@gmail.com)

Teaching Listening: Principles, Techniques and Technologies

This session highlights the EVO session about teaching listening, a skill that a lot of teachers find tricky to teach. Participants in this session designed, experimented with and discussed a range of listening activities informed by research and expanded their knowledge of online resources and tech tools for teaching listening.

Daniela Martino, Universidad de La Plata, Argentina (dlmartino78@gmail.com)

Teaching Pronunciation Differently

This session highlights the experiences of the presenter as a moderator and a participant in the EVO session about teaching pronunciation. The session focuses on the 'Articulatory Approach', which teaches students what to do with their mouths to sound right.

Carrie Terry, Clear Pronunciation, UK (carrie@clearpronunciation.co.uk)

Online Tools Used in EVO sessions

This session will highlight some of the many tools used to moderate and participate in the Electronic Village Online sessions.

Mbarek Akaddar, Hassan II High School, Morocco (akaddar13@hotmail.com)
